Mujeres de la Tierra is a Latina founded and led 501(c)(3) environmental equity nonprofit that focuses on the healing of La Madre Tierra (Mother Earth) in Southern California. By supporting women, they aspire to create a network of trained community leaders to speak out and act with a collective and influential voice. [www.mujeresdelatierra.org]

2019 Alas al Futuro Award Recipient: CMC

The California Metals Coalition (CMC) was the 2019 recipient of the "Alas al Futuro (Wings to the Future)" environmental award.

Presented by Mujeres de la Tierra and Los Angeles County Supervisor Mark Ridley Thomas, the custom mosaic award was made in Los Angeles and bestowed November 2, 2019.

CMC received the award for its leadership on passing a new law (SB 205) that will require all industrial facilities to have a storm water permit before receiving a business license.

When it rains, the water that runs off of an industrial facility can contain pollutants. A storm water permit helps reduce and control potential pollution sources.
